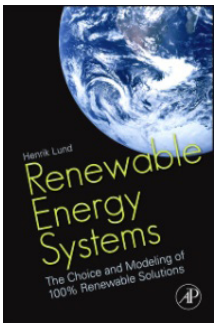
New book

Renewable Energy Systems, 1st Edition
The Choice and Modeling of 100% Renewable Solutions



Print Book
Author: Lund, H.
Academic Press
ISBN: 9780123750280
"The text also undertakes the socio-political realities governing the implementation of renewable energy systems. Dr. Lund makes clear that it is the work of professionals in the renewables field to raise awareness that alternatives DO exist and that it is indeed economically and technically viable to choose renewable energy systems. To aid readers in that task, the book presents key strategies on how to overcome the inherent lethargy of entrenched institutions that seek to reinforce the status quo when confronted with objectives implying the need for radical technological change. After all, knowing there IS a choice is half the battle."

Self-renewal of library material

All issued materials may be renewed either by telephone, physically coming to the library or by renewing via the Library catalogue on the library web page. Click on MY RECORDS on the website. This should be done on or before the due date stamped on them. The dedicated library e-mail for renewals is library@vut.ac.za. Students and staff can renew a single item twice.

Tune in to VUTFM every Monday @ 15:30. The purpose is to share valuable information on the library and its facilities and services.

One Book One Library Project is a project to promote recreational reading among the VUT students. "Young Blood" by Sifiso Mzobe has been selected for reading and a number of students have signed up to take part in the reading and discussion sessions. The project will be formally launched on the 13rd April 2012.
